Opportunity Build is a construction apprenticeship readiness program that offers intensive hands-on training along with a full year of job placement support and comprehensive wraparound services. Opportunity Build, based at Rising Sun's headquarters on the Oakland/Emeryville border, is Berkeley's nearest construction trades pre-apprenticeship program.	Approximately 6 residents will lose access to vocational training (typically a 10 week series for construction/sustainable building trades)
HHCS	HCS	Supply Bank	Community Agency	35,000	35,000	Eliminate program. SupplyBank.org an Oakland-based nonprofit organization, is continuing an annual effort to ensure every low-income Berkeley student attends class with the school supplies they need to achieve. In partnership with BUSD, local businesses and local community leaders,SupplyBank.org's collaborative effort will provide comprehensive, grade-appropriate school supply and dental supply kits to 1,300 low-income (free/reduced price meal eligible) K-12 Berkeley students.	Up to 1300 Berkeley students may lose access to school supply and dental kits
HHCS	HCS	BACS STAIR - reduction	Community Agency	400,554	400,554	The Pathways STAIR Center is a low-barrier, emergency shelter for homeless people in Berkeley. In FY25, the Stair Center was converted from a 42 bed congregate shelter to a 32 non-congregate shelter. The STAIR navigation center provides Housing First services for people experiencing homelessness who are looking to rapidly transition into permanent housing. The STAIR Center provides support related to mental health, hygiene, physical health, benefits navigation support and employment needs, while maintaining a high focus on achieving permanent housing.	At this time, I would say that some of the impact is already in place with a 30% decrease in capacity, however, more will be understood after meeting with BACS. The 30% reduction in capacity does not automatically equate to a 30% reduction in the operating costs, and it's likely there are some costs that stay the same, or that some costs are different or higher operating non-congregate. That being said, we should expect some reductions based on the reduced capacity, and to the extend these recommendations exceed that, I think it creates room for there to be another funding source for at least some leverage of local funds. Hopefully there is no actual service reduction
HHCS	HCS	Winter Shelter Program	Community Agency	358,750	358,750	The Berkeley Winter Shelter (BWS) is a seasonal shelter open seven days a week, 24 hours a day from December 1 - April 15 during the winter season. BWS accepts referrals exclusively through the Coordinated Entry System in coordination with Berkeley outreach teams, including the HRT. As the BWS season sunsets, BWS Coordinator and staff begin to work diligently with the Housing Resource Center (HRC) with the goal of connecting each guest with permanent housing solutions. Within the 6 months at BESS, staff engage with every guest to identify potential in family reunification and permanent shelter opportunities	Berkeley will lose 25 beds during the winter season. These beds were primarily occupied by the most vulnerable unhoused folks living on the streets - often seniors - who are resistant to move into congregate shelters.
